RIGHT LEG CAUGHT AND BOTH BONES BROKEN.

Statements as to How the Mishap Occurred-The Real Cause Seems to Be In Doubt-Dr. Ewing Suf-

HOW IT OCCURRED.

It was a few minutes before 6 o'clock when the dictor left his office on the second floor, and stepped into the elevator to descend. It appears that the stop was made properly at the first floor was also prettly decorated and used for serving refreshment. On the whole, the party was among the social successes of the summer season. The left foot, the cage dropped, and before he could draw his right foot out of the way it was caught between the top of the opening of the cage, which dropped to the bottom of the shaft, a distance of six or eight feet. He was quickly rescued from his painful imprisonment, and every effort was made to relieve his suffering. A couch was prepared with pillows from Walker Bros.' dry goods store and lee was brought from across the street.

THE INJURIES.

THE INJURIES.

Medical aid was soon at hand, Drs.
Niles, Pinkerton, Pfoutz, Silver, Kerr and McElroy arriving in a few minutes.
The injured man was removed from the corridor to Dr. Pfoutz's office, where an examination revealed a fracture of both bones of the limb above the ankle. There was a severe contusion, the tissnes being badly mashed and the skin slightly broken. It is a very ser-ious fracture, but Dr. Worthington, who was in attendance last night, expressed the belief that amputation will not be necessary. The broken member having been set, he was carried care-fully down the stairs and conveyed in an ambulance to his home at 537 South Fifth East.

SUFFERED INTENSELY.

Dr. Ewing stood the ordeal bravely but suffered intense pain, and said that be had often given medical assistance in such cases, but never before realized how much pain one must suffer. He was reported resting quite comfortably late last night.

CAUSE IN DOUBT.

CAUSE IN DOUBT.

The cause of the accident may, perhaps, not yet be clearly determined, but the opinion prevailed last night that it was due to the inexperience of a new clevator boy, Harry Brown, who was not sufficiently familiar to manipulate the machinery and did not know how to stop the cage when it commenced to descend. This, however, commenced to descend. This, however, limit. a new elevator boy, Harry Brown, who was not sufficiently familiar to manipulate the machinery and did not know how to stop the cage when it commenced to descend. This, however, may not be the truth, and an investigation may show that the machinery, and not the boy, is to blame. Young Brown had been operating only a few

Brown had been operating only a few days. He was greatly excited, and went quickly to his home. His account was substantially as given above. At the time of the accident another boy was in the elevator with him.

Manager Graham of Walker Bros.' dry goods store was seen last night, but was naturally reticent in talking about the accident, as he did not witness it. From what he had heard, he agreed with the account as given, but yenwith the account as given, but ven-tured the assertion that the elevator boy did not open the door when the stop was made at the first floor. Owing to his sufferings, Dr. Ewing was unable, after the accident, to de-scribe the affair with electrons.

refunding bonds, and the ordinance authorizing the making and sale of them on a lawful money basis, instead of gold, as recommended by the committee. It has been insinuated in the public press that I left for a purpose. I wish to say that I did not leave to avoid voting. I am willing to assume all responsibility and to shirk from nothing in my official acts. When the matter was up before the committee at first all the members were a unit for matter was up before the committee at first all the members were a unit for issuing gold bonds. But every member personally favored a lawful money bond if it could be floated as advantageously as a gold issue. One of the committeemen failed to sign the report, and later changed his mind, and stood for lawful money. Now, I wish to go on record as favoring a lawful money bond, inasmuch as I believe it can be floated. I am for the restoration of silver as much as any man in this council, but no one has yet been able to show me that by the insertion of the gold clause would the value of a millionth part of a grain be taken from silver. Nevertheless, I now favor the issuing of the bonds on a lawful money basis, if it will save the taxpayers $5,000.a year in interest."

PATRICK'S EXPLANATION.

PATRICK'S EXPLANATION.

Councilman Patrick from the non-partisan side of the house, which stood for the gold clause, followed with his explanation. He said:

"I presume I am placed in the same boat. Being unwell, through the neglect of a city official, I was compelled to leave the council chamber last meeting leave the council chamber last meeting before the voting really commenced. It is a reporter's place to report the proceedings and not to take any note of a member leaving. It is only the business of the president of the council when a member leaves his seat and no concern of the newspapers."

Buckle facetiously suggested that Patrick delegate him to throw the reporter out of the window. This inter-porter out of the window. This inter-ruption evidently spoiled Patrick's speech for he immediately resumed his seat without stating what sort of bonds he favored or attempting to repudiate the insinuation that his unceremonlor leave taking was for the purpose evading responsibility as to his vote.

DELAYING A REPORT.

The long delayed report of the committees on streets and improvements on the petition of the Utah Power com-pany for pole line privileges in the paved district, was called for by Siddoway. The call was followed by a motion by Weiler directing the commit-tees to submit a report next week. Af-ter the motion had carried Morris, the # chairman of the street committee, asked to be excused from acting on the consideration of the power company's petition. Morris owns shares in the company, and his request was granted.

DIEHL IS CURIOUS.

Diehl wanted to know what committee gave the privilege to erect a large, unsightly frame building in the street at the intersection of Second South and Second West streets. The shed structure is used as a peanut stand and a dwelling. "It is," added the inquisitive councilman, "a better and a bigger house than any in Klondike, and is occupied by a big fellow who drinks more lager in a day than I do in a month."

At this juncture Councilman Morris DIEHL IS CURIOUS.

JOHN E. BOOTH OF PROVO IS

Silver Republicans Unable to Fuse | In private m -Joe Lippman's Plan to Elect Cannon-Opposition to Chief Justice Zane Growing-Notes.

According to the statements of a very prominent member of the McKinley Republican faction made yesterday, there is going to be a race to see who will secure the nomination for congress on the straight Republican ticket. John E. Booth of Provo will be an aspirant, a candidate or whatever it may be termed. One faction of the McKin-ley faction favors Booth as being the best man for the place, and he will have a good following, especially from the northern districts, Weber county included.

At the convention where Holbrook was nominated, Booth was a candidate, and Lindsay Rogers worked for him teeth and toe nail. But for the treachery of the Box Elder county Republican delegation in going back on Lindsay at a critical moment, there is but little doubt that Booth would have been nominated. Ganceal Taylor bay. been nominated, General Taylor hav-ing been retired by a conspiracy headed by Lindsay, who was aided and shetted by the chairman of the convention, who was jealous of the popularity by the chairman of the convention, who was jealous of the popularity which General Taylor had achieved by his political course.

The Republican who informed The Herald as to the candidacy of Booth, said yesterday the Provo gentleman was a most remarkable man, which is generously conceded. That he was a strong man, as strong as any man in the party; that he was a powerful man. the party; that he was a powerful man replete with new ideas, which is as frankly admitted as anything else. But look out for Booth. He is going to be a factor in the Republican campaign, and will come up in the vention with as many delegates as any vention with as many delegates as any man; maybe more.

Seriously, it is understood that General Taylor is preparing a statement of his views and that so soon as they have been completed, he will cause them to be printed, with a view to letting the people know just where he stands upon the vital issues of the day.

stands upon the vital issues of the day.

Reports from the northern counties are to the effect that sentiment among the administration men is by no means favorable to the candidacy of Frank J. Cannon. One of Arthur Brown's particular friends and supporters declared yesterday he would not receive the assistance of one solitary member of the administration Republicans. That sooner than see him elected they would adhere to a straight Democrat, for then adhere to a straight Democrat, for then they would know what to expect. As has been stated in The Herald several times, the slogan is going to be: "Any-thing to beat Cannon."

The Herald's statement concerning the policy to be pursued by friends of Mr. Cannon in securing the pomination of men for the legislature on the Democratic ticket, who have a friendship for him, is truth. That plan is decided upon emphatically, and was a creation of the fertile brain of no less a person than Joe Lippman, chairman of the state committee. It was snapped up as a trout would take a fly, and in all parts of the state the game will be at-tempted, with what success later days will develop. Already a few such men have been suggested right here in this county. The faction which desires the election of Mr. Cannon does not hope for any fusion on the part of the Dem-ocrats and is going to make every of-fort possible to win on other lines, this having so far falled.

Chief Justice Zane is not going to cher Justice Zane is not going to have a walkover for the nomination for the vacancy on the supreme bench which will be created by the expiration of his term of office. Ugly rumors of opposition have been floating around of late, which bode no good for his interests. He is going to be

The situation is a bit perplexing to all concerned, because as yet there has been nothing on the part of the silver Republicans to indicate what part they will take in electing the ticket, or whether they will have one of their own. To stand any show at all, in the event there are two tickets, a candidate would have to have the endorsement of both, and in case he did not receive them, then all hope would have to be abandoned, for in a three-cornered fight there would be no chance whatever. This is the position in which Justice Zane finds himself. The silver forces do not like him because he acted with the McKinleyites, and if he is selected by the regulars, he will doubtless go down like grass before the mower when the other crowd meets. The situation is a bit perplexing to

That there will be three candidates for the office of congressman, is almost a certainty. There will be no convention of two forces as there was two years ago, not by any means.

Through a typographical error it was stated yesterday that Frank Y. Taylor would be a candidate before the Democratic convention for the office now held by County treasurer S. H. Lynch.
